

About FPP

Federacja Przedsiębiorców Polskich (The Federation of Polish Entrepreneurs) is an organization of entrepreneurs, whose primary goal is to ensure proper development and security for the most important entities on the Polish labor market - employers and employees. It represents the interests of companies and institutions affiliated with the Federation, constantly striving to improve the quality of the functioning of Polish companies both domestically and internationally.

FPP is a member of the Social Dialogue Council that serves as a central forum in Poland for tripartite dialogue and collaboration among representatives from the workers' side, the employers' side, and the government.

It undertakes initiatives to shape responsible, sustainable policies - effective from the point of view of employers and guaranteeing high security for employees. Dialogue - undertaken by the Federation of Polish Entrepreneurs (FPP) - is intended to take into account the opinions of all participants in the Polish labor market, and then - through a multilateral compromise - build lasting relations between individual organizations and representatives of public authorities.

Dialogue - undertaken by the FPP - is to take into account the opinions of all participants in the Polish labor market, and then - through a multilateral compromise - build lasting relationships between individual organizations and representatives of public authorities.

FPP also aims to integrate members and create conditions for business cooperation.